Alumni Testimonials

Keya Ghosh (Batch 2015-16)

Network Specialist - United Nations Peacekeeping

K J Somaiya Institute of Management is one of the leading institutions. The MBA Executive course is thoughtfully designed, addressing almost every aspect of modern business needs. The faculty is outstanding, with extensive field experience and practical expertise. The institute offers excellent facilities, including a residential campus, dining options, a gym, and a vibrant campus with dedicated spaces for student activities. It has been a journey filled with enriching experiences. At no point did I lack guidance; I was always in a supportive environment. As an alumna, I believe there is still a long way to go, and we are making great progress.

Ankit Kohli (Batch 2018-19)

Finance and Insurance Analyst - Birla Carbon

K J Somaiya Institute of Management, particularly the MBA Executive programme, has been a life-changing decision for me. The sheer knowledge of the professors, case study discussions, field visits and peer learning have not only expanded my thinking but also made the learning experience more enriching. The alumni network of the institution speaks volumes about its legacy, and as the saying goes, there is indeed a method in the madness.

Narayanan Palani (Batch 2011-12)

Senior Engineering Lead - Sustainability - Quality Accessibility - Cloud Transformation - Lloyds Banking Group

Despite my prior applications to INSEAD, Singapore and NY Stern, I chose K J Somaiya in 2011 based on a strong recommendation from my project manager. It was not just the best Indian alternative to a world-class Executive MBA, but also the unique faculty and culture that focused on personal growth and constructive feedback. Looking back, the 1.5 years spent at this campus felt equivalent to five years of overseas education. The empathetic, people-first approach, coupled with high-resiliency coaching, provided invaluable insights that I wouldn't have gained at an IIM or NIT. Most of my professors were either from IIMs or directors of leading organisations, offering a level of education that surpassed many mediocre IIMs/IITs. An MBA is not a time-bound course; rather, it is a career-long journey of learning. SIMSR laid the foundation for my leadership development, inspiring me to complete a certificate of specialisation at Harvard, Sustainability Leadership at Exeter B-School. IIMs would have easily made me settle for less. Somaiya University never underestimates its students' capabilities; the vast alumni community of world-leading organisations is a true example of it. The Executive MBA at K J Somaiya Institute of Management would be, in my opinion, a fair choice over Asian institutes such as Nanyang and Insead.

Experiential Learning at KJSIM

Amul, a brand everyone is familiar with, is known for one of the best supply chain and distribution networks in India. The plant in Anand in Gujarat was selected to incorporate experiential learning methods for the MBA Executive students. The visit to the Amul facility at Anand was an insightful learning experience that provided a deeper understanding of various aspects of the dairy industry. During the visit, the participants observed the manufacturing, supply chain management and distribution of milk and milk products, which was the main focus of the learning. Moreover, students were encouraged to reflect on their observations and understanding and integrate them with the theories discussed in class.
